Teachers consulted on plan for new free school

HEADTEACHERS across Harlow are being asked for their views on Burnt Mill Academy's plan for a new free school.

The Burnt Mill Co-operative Academy Trust revealed plans last week to open a new free school on the former Passmores School site in Tendring Road.

For the trust to apply to the Department for Education, one of the necessary requirements is first to gather community support.

Helena Mills, head of BMAT schools, said: "We are looking to consult with the community as a whole. If we feel there is support, we will be looking to put our application forward in March."

"I have lots of meetings in my diary with headteachers of the town's primary schools to get their views. I will also be meeting many parents of Year 3, 4, 9 and 10 children in our own schools, but also other primary schools where school places may be required in 2018."

Demand

"People have asked why we are even considering this. The main reason is we want to help the local authority to meet the demand for places in 2018."

"However, we are also keen to offer more children the Burnt Mill experience. If families want it, our free school would also offer an elite programme, including A-level courses and the International Baccalaureate not currently offered in Harlow."

The BMAT plan is to open a free school and sixth form for 11 to 19-year-olds.

The trust already operates two secondary schools – Burnt Mill in Harlow and Forest Hall School in Stansted – and four primaries in the town.

The new school, if approved, will open first with the sixth form in 2017 before the main school in 2018.

FEELING GOOD: Charlie Manly was praised for his honesty

CHARLIE, 15, HANDS IN £285 CASH FIND

Praise for honest teen

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW teenager has been praised by police for handing in a wallet containing hundreds of pounds – which was set to turn a homeless man's life around.

Charlie Manly, 15, found the wallet near Harlow Playhouse with £285 cash inside.

The Year 11 student at Burnt Mill Academy contacted the police as he feared the owner would miss the large amount of money.

The police were able to trace the owner through Streets2Homes and found the elderly man had fallen on hard times, but was just beginning to turn his life around with the help of the charity.

Charlie said: "I handed the wallet in at the police station and three days later I was told about the homeless man."

"When he found out it was a 15-year-old who found it and handed it in, apparently he was shocked as he didn't think he would see the money again."

"I'm really glad the man got his wallet and money back and can now get his life back on track. I feel great that I did the right thing. I could have done anything with £300, but I know I did something great and hope karma will come back to me as a result."

The owner was so impressed with

Fundraiser Suzanne prepares for Cambodia trek

A SECURITY administrator is taking a trip into the unknown by tackling a five-day charity trek through Cambodia.

Suzanne Harvey, 38, of Bromley Close, Harlow, will be part of a team of 28 people who will be raising money for the Essex Air Ambulance by taking on the challenge next week.

The group will walk eight hours a day in a hot and humid climate, following a 78km route past ancient temples before ascending to the upper plain of the Kulen Mountain.

When she signed up for the challenge, Suzanne had to agree to raise £3,500 to go on the trip. She set up an online donation page and reached her goal by raising £3,670.

"It is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to do something amazing for a great charity," she said.

"I am really looking forward to it and I'm chuffed to have raised so much money already."

"The walk will be a challenge and I'm fearing the lack of toilets. I've heard we'll have to make a hole in the ground to go to the loo."

UP FOR A CHALLENGE: Suzanne Harvey will be joining a group of fundraisers taking part in a five-day trek in Cambodia in aid of the Essex air ambulance

The group will spend the first and last night in a hotel but will sleep in tents throughout the rest of the trip.

Suzanne said: "As a security administrator this is something completely different to my everyday life. I'm excited that the walk will take in some world heritage sites"

She added: "I'm really pleased to have reached the money I needed to go and anything else now is a bonus."

Anyone wanting to make a donation to Suzanne can do so by visiting www.justgiving.com/Suzanne-Harvey4

Charlie, 15, praised for handing over £285 cash

Charlie's honesty, he handed over £20 as a thank you.

Vince Edwards, property officer at Harlow Police, said in a letter to Charlie's headteacher: "Young people often get bad press these days, but it is so nice when you get a story like this. I feel not only is he a credit to himself, but also to his parents and, of course, to your school."

Kerrie Eastman, chief operations officer at Streets2Homes, said: "This man has been homeless for quite some time and we had just helped him to get back on his feet."

"Without this money, he would not have been able to pay his rent and bills and would no doubt have lost his home again."

"To know a young lad handed it in restores your faith in human kindness. Thank you Charlie, we are really proud of you."

Helena Mills, head of Burnt Mill Co-operative Academy Trust schools, said: "It is an honour to be a teacher in Harlow because the children are so kind and helpful."

"It is something we reinforce all the time at Burnt Mill. GCSE results are important, but being a good citizen is equally as important."

"Charlie is a great role model to other teenagers."

Lower rents 'will hit housebuilding'

Council warns of threat to its homes programme

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

PLANS to build more council housing in Harlow could be shelved under Government proposals to reduce rents for tenants.

Labour councillors voiced their concern during a recent meeting of the authority during which housing portfolio holder Rod Truan said lower rents would result in a loss of income to the council of more than £12m by March 2020.

"This loss cannot be accommodated through efficiency savings alone and it is anticipated that the council will not be able to repay the £209m borrowing it took out in 2012," he warned.

In his summer budget, Chancellor George Osborne announced he planned to introduce an annual one per cent cut in council tenants' rents for the period of the next four years.

Mr Osborne said cutting rents would remove the "ratchet" effect that had seen inflation-based increases push up the cost of housing benefit by more than 20 per cent over the past five years to £24.2bn.

But the proposals will leave Harlow Council facing a £12.8m revenue gap by March 2020 which it cannot support. Perhaps more significantly it will also mean it will not be able to repay the £209m loan it received from the Government in 2012 to fund its programme of housebuilding.

On top of that, the Labour-run administration at the Civic Centre said the extension of Government schemes like Right to Buy will add to its financial woes and "further depletion of the social housing stock".

Cllr Truan added: "The council continues to lobby the Government to take action to address escalating private sector rent levels and increase housing standards in the private sector."

Conservative councillors said the authority should wait for the full details of the proposals, likely to be announced by the Government when the Chancellor delivers his autumn spending review later this month.

Sex assault: man arrested

POLICE confirmed this week they are investigating an allegation of a sexual assault on a girl under the age of 13 in Harlow.

A spokesman for Essex Police said on Tuesday a man has been arrested on suspicion of sexual assault of a child and released on conditional bail pending further enquiries.

He is due to report back on Tuesday, January 19.

No other information about the suspect or the alleged offence have been released.

County sheriff sees value of co-operation on town visit

THE importance of co-operation between organisations working together to provide help and support to people in Harlow was highlighted during a fact-finding trip to the town by the High Sheriff of Essex.

Vincent Thompson began his visit at a reception in the Civic Centre during which he met Harlow Council chairman Tony Hall and leader Jon Clempner, as well as officers from the housing and community wellbeing team and a representative of Essex County Fire and Rescue Service.

Presentation

He was then taken on a tour of the town, starting with a presentation by the council's Community Safety Team and the Local Neighbourhood Policing Team which showcased the role of the agencies involved in the Safer Harlow Partnership.

Mr Thompson was then taken to local homelessness organisation

From there he visited Princess Alexandra Hospital where he was introduced to staff from the maternity and A&E departments. They spoke to him about the the Daisy Project which supports victims of domestic abuse.

Mr Thompson also heard about the range of support services available to victims and the work of the Harlow

Domestic Abuse Forum.

Speaking after the visit, Cllr Clempner said: "Partnership and co-operative working is vital, especially when resources are being scaled back, as you can do more together to help people, than you can on your own."

Hospital to lose beds as staff problems worsen

Trust chairman's grim warning that PAH is not 'viable financially'

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

BEDS are to be axed at Princess Alexandra Hospital because the NHS trust is "unable to consistently and safely staff" the number currently available at the Harlow site.

The trust will close four beds on each ward "progressively" and will prepare for closures of the A&E department over winter.

Chief executive Phil Morley told the trust's October board meeting the organisation was at "a critical juncture and could not deliver what was being asked of it without making some very difficult decisions".

Mr Morley said the increasing cost of agency staff to "maintain a viable workforce" was a factor.

At the end of September the trust had a deficit of £20.1m, some £4.6m worse than planned. It has forecast a deficit of £30m-£35m for the year.

Trust chairman Douglas Smallwood added: "It is recognised by the board, funders and regulators that PAH is not viable financially and is becoming unviable clinically and many of the causes are beyond our control."

Target

Mr Morley said the trust was in the bottom 10 organisations nationally against the four-hour target and winter plans "do not give the assurance that we will achieve even 90 per cent, let alone the required 95 per cent required. It is likely we will be nationally escalated."

He added: "We have not agreed to sign up to delivering the requirement because we feel patient safety and staff safety are potentially compromised with the volume of work being delivered and the physical number of beds open."

The trust only saw 81.5 per cent of patients within four hours during August, according to the latest data.

It has contingency plans in place if and when it needs to open more beds over winter.

Essex is in NHS England's "success regime" but yesterday PAH was removed from the programme.

When measuring attendances per bed, PAH is the busiest A&E department in England.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon praised the efforts of hospital staff who he said were doing an incredible job in a difficult climate.

He added: "I will continue to speak to the health minister to ensure there is as much support given as possible."

A spokeswoman for PAH said yesterday (Wednesday): "There will always be the need for an acute hospital in Harlow."

"We are exploring different options, working closely with our partners, commissioners and regulators to find a long term, viable and sustainable solution."

"Patient safety is our key priority at all times."

Give disabled better access

SIR Mrs Gillespie's letter in last week's Star ("Different view of the town", October 29) is distressing and the Harlow Area Access Group extends its sympathies to her.

She does, though, highlight the problems faced daily by those of us with significant physical and sensory impairments. Many of us are extremely reluctant to venture out for fear of becoming stranded somewhere by unreliable bus services, tripped and injured as a consequence of endless uneven footpaths as well as entirely unnecessary street clutter or embarrassed due to the frequent misuse of so-called accessible toilets.

HAAG has for many years actively campaigned to improve the lives of local disabled people by promoting inclusive design of the streetscape, public buildings, and residential properties but sadly, as Mrs Gillespie's experience confirms, the facilities in many of Harlow's public spaces and buildings continues to exclude and deter many disabled people from playing an active part in our community.

The Royal National Institute for the Blind recently published a very useful commentary, On My Street? It is essential reading for everybody, explaining the problems faced by people with visual impairments and proposing easily achieved solutions.

Paralympian Anne Wafula-Strike is in the process of setting up a project that will engage and enable people in Harlow who are differently-abled. HAAG plans to be part of this project which will also raise awareness of the everyday problems faced by with disabilities in Harlow.

Thank you, Mrs Gillespie, for your letter. We very much hope it will start a wide debate about giving everyone safe access to the street and facilities of our town.

educational gimmicks brought in by this libertarian/authoritarian government to prise education out of local authority and democratic, control (Star, October 29).

Do not be fooled, these schools are neither free nor progressive. They are part of the business of corporatising and marketising the young by offering narrowly focussed curriculum based on the evidence-free obsessions of groups of businessmen and ultra right wing journalists.

Academies and free schools have not shown any discernible improvements over the local authority comprehensives.

Everything of the educationalist in me heaves at the thought of making small children the target of business exploitation.

When I came across a local infant school re-badged as an academy, my first instinct was to laugh, then to feel somewhat nauseated. The idea of six-year-olds being crammed into antiquated uniforms to be exposed to a reactionary curriculum taught, increasingly, by unqualified teachers under control of a crude corporate ideology should make every parent wary.

Tyranny has been described as being subject to unknown, uncertain and arbitrary will of a single man. Substitute the word corporation and you have the political and ideological intentions of free schools.

Whether you agree with my analysis or not, some parents will be deluded into thinking that a free school will be offering them something special.

In fact they will be taught exactly as in the state system or they will be imbued from an early age with narrow ideas about the nature of education as being stuffed full of knowledge, as though being prepared for a lifetime of Telegraph crossword-solving. No one seems to question this sort of education.

Every Wednesday lunchtime you can tune into Prime Minister's Questions and see the products of this sort of education.

I hope Harlow parents will want something better for their children.

But what can be the attraction to businesses of this sort of establishment.

A cynical person might suggest looking into the number of academy trusts and free schools that have paid sums in consultancy fees to businesses and consultancies they own.

The scope for plunder is very large and the opportunity for democratic public accountability minute.

As for the voices of parents and other taxpayers whose money is being exploited, the term 'free' doesn't include them.

Why not set up a university?

SIR Rather than create another school in Harlow where there are plenty of schools that could benefit from investment to expand, why not invite the university sector to create a science, technology, engineering and maths specialist university?

We already have the foundations in place via the STEM centre at Science Alive and our University Technical College.

The nature of the economic development zone means it would make excellent sense to set up a university here on the old Passmores site to provide higher education degrees so both our youngsters and the town economy can benefit.

Happy lights are back on

SIR Darren Playle seems to think Harlow Council has lost its marbles by agreeing to have our street lights switched back on (Letters, October 29).

I believe it's a lot more than the "childish few" he seems to think there are who are very happy to have them back on. One is my daughter whose partner had his van broken into at least twice.

I expect most senior citizens and those doing shift work are eternally grateful for the return of the lights.

I notice Mr Playle states that he drives so does not use a bicycle or walk around after dark and so is unaware of the dangers of it being so dark.

Long may our council continue to keep Harlow safe and our lights on.

Don't tax the poor and dying

SIR How can Harlow's Labour-ruled council justify continuing to inflict a 24 per cent cut in council tax relief upon the poorest householders in the town, given that the new leader of the Labour Party is explicitly opposed to austerity?

At a meeting on October 22, Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner confirmed that terminally ill jobless householders in Harlow are required to pay council tax.

Council Tax Benefit provided 100 per cent relief on council tax bills to all jobless householders with less than £16,000 in savings. It was abolished in 2013 and replaced with Localised Council Tax Support and each local authority became responsible for setting the level of relief in its district.

Harlow Council decided to cut the maximum level of council tax relief by 24 per cent and reduce the savings limit from £16,000 to £6,000. Under Harlow's Localised Council Tax Support scheme, terminally ill jobless householders are compelled to pay a minimum of 24 per cent of their council tax bills, while those with more than £6,000 in savings are compelled to pay 100 per cent of their council tax bills.

How can it be right that householders unable to work because of terminal illness are obliged to pay council tax in Harlow when those in the same circumstances in neighbouring towns are exempt? It is a disgrace the council demands that the poorest householders in the town pay council tax even when they are dying.

Keep lookout for hedgehogs

SIR I would like to remind everyone who will be having a bonfire on November 5 to check underneath for hedgehogs. They are an endangered species and we all need to take care of them.

Please put out cat or dog food and dry broken cat biscuits (not fish as it doesn't agree with them) even when they are in hibernation as they wake up every 10 days. They like a drink of water but not milk.

Also please make a small gap in the garden fence so they can come in and search for worms.

In brief

Remember our fallen heroes

HARLOW: The town's annual Remembrance Day service to honour the memory of those who have given their lives for their country will take place at the Nettleswell Cross war memorial on Sunday.

Standards will muster at Burnt Mill School at 10am for the start of a parade to the memorial.

During the service, which begins at 10.45am, poppy wreaths will be laid at the base of the stone cross by local dignitaries and representatives of the various Armed Forces and local youth organisations.

People planning to attend the service are advised to arrive by 10.30am. School Lane will be closed between 10am and noon.

In the evening the town's branch of the Royal British Legion will be holding a Festival of Remembrance with music and readings at Harlow Playhouse.

Stay well over winter

HARLOW: Shoppers in the Harvey Centre today (Thursday) can pick up some useful tips on staying well during winter.

The Stay Well This Winter roadshow is part of a new campaign by NHS England and Public Health England to reduce pressure on hospitals by helping the public, and in particular those with long-term health conditions and those over 65, ward off common seasonal illnesses.

Harlow GP Dr Rob Gerlis, chairman of the West Essex Clinical Commissioning Group, said: "It will offer advice and information about the precautions people can take. A nurse will be available to answer any more specific questions people may have."

The roadshow will be in unit 64 of the centre from 9am-5pm.

TV licence cheats

HARLOW: Dozens of people in the 18-25 age group have been caught in a crackdown on TV licence cheats.

The figures released by TV Licensing show that during the past year 46 people in Harlow were found to be watching live. The figure for the whole of Essex was 740.

Anyone caught watching live broadcasts on any device – including computers, laptops, tablets or mobiles – risks a fine of up to £1,000.

Square could be named the UK's best small venue

Result of competition to be decided by public vote

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ONE of Harlow's longest-running venues for live entertainment has been nominated for a national award just weeks before it is due to close.

The Square, in Fourth Avenue, has an audience capacity of 250 and been included on a shortlist of 10 in the running to be named Britain's Best Small Venue by music magazine NME. The winner will be decided by a public vote.

This week SquareOne Entertainment, which runs the venue, called on Star readers to support it.

Co-owner and promoter Adam Smith said: "The Square has played a big part in the lives of so many people in Harlow."

"Bands such as Collapsed Lung, The Subways, Enter Shikari, Morning Parade and George Ezra all took their first steps here and Adele's Grammy award-winning producer Paul Epworth worked here in the studio."

"Hundreds of kids have walked through the doors as punters and as band members. To acknowledge its importance, not only in Harlow but nationally, would be a fitting end for the building. Whilst we're still working on securing a future for the venue in another premises, winning the title of Britain's Best Small Venue would certainly help our cause."

The NME said competition was to champion the contribution small venues make to the music scene.

"Everything that's exciting about the world's greatest music can be found in small venues," said a spokesman.

"From Arctic Monkeys frenzied gigs at Sheffield's Boardwalk to The Beatles stomping the floors of The Cavern, these tiny, sweat-drenched rooms are the places where legends are born and where the best bands become truly life-affirming."

The Square is due to close its doors at the end of the year after land owners Circle Housing unveiled plans to redevelop the site, which also includes the empty YWCA block.

■ Voting for Britain's Best Small Venue started on Monday and continues until November 27. To take part visit <http://jackrocks.nme.com/smallvenues>.

Steel band hoping to recruit new members

A GROUP of musicians with an ear for the sounds of the Caribbean is hoping to recruit new members.

Harlow Steel Band, which performs across the county and in London, has a membership age ranging from 12 to 21.

"You don't need to read music or have any previous musical experience," said secretary Pat Beaumont. "We're a very friendly bunch and it's a great atmosphere. We're looking forward to welcoming new members."

Grateful cyclist thanks drivers who stopped to help him after accident

A TEACHER who suffered a fit after being knocked off his bicycle has thanked the good samaritans who stopped to help.

Stephen Fahey, 37, was cycling along Southern Way in Harlow when he was clipped by a car at the roundabout near Katherines.

After falling off his bike he began fitting in the road, but passing motorists stopped to keep him safe and call paramedics.

"I just feel lucky to be alive," said Mr Fahey. "I want to thank everyone who stopped and kept me safe while I was in the road. I thought I was a gonner."

"Everyone was fantastic. I don't remember a lot of what happened so I want to say thank you. I want people to know that Harlow has a really nice community who are willing to help."

Although Mr Fahey has suffered fits in the past, this was the first in a long time. He had recently been given permission to resume driving by the DVLA and now faces an agonising wait to hear if that decision will be overturned.

He was treated for minor cuts and bruising after the accident last Monday.

Glowing through the gloom

Fog fails to foil fireworks fun

THE skies above Harlow blazed with the colours of the rainbow when a shroud of heavy fog blanketing the Town Park Showground provided a backdrop for the annual fireworks and bonfire night celebrations.

More than 15,000 people attended Sunday's annual showpiece event, one of the highlights of the town calendar.

The show, which has been held in the town for more than 40 years, was organised by Harlow Council with support from the Great Parndon Community Association.

It is now one of the biggest free displays in eastern England.

Those who arrived early enjoyed the various attractions provided by a fun-fair, while the Heart 101.7 music roadshow hosted by breakfast show presenters Martin and Su kept the crowds entertained.

There were also performances by singers Jessica Alice and Hollie Barrie and dancers from Hip Hop Pop.

At 6.45pm, council vice-chair Edna Stevens lit the giant bonfire with help from Nicola Weeks (Snow White) and Jake Hendricks (Prince Charming) from the cast of the forthcoming Playhouse pantomime Snow White.

The highlight of the evening, the spectacular 20-minute firework display, followed 30 minutes later.

Cllr Emma Toal, portfolio holder for youth and community, said: "We are sorry the heavy fog may have affected the view and impact for some residents but despite this we know the majority of the crowd certainly appreciated the council's efforts, with huge cheers and applause at the end of the fireworks."

"We have, as always, received some fantastic feedback."

She added: "Events like this would not happen if it wasn't for the hard work on the day and through the evening of council staff, stewards, volunteers and Great Parndon Community Association."

Charity collections held during the evening raised £220 while a toffee apple stand run by the Friends of the Leah Manning Centre raised more than £200.

Training to deal

Rescue services join forces to put their

Laura Burge

At first glance it looks like a major incident is unfolding on a motorway. Fortunately, though, these pictures show a training exercise undertaken by the emergency services.

A number of cars, heavy goods vehicles and even a loaded horse trailer were involved in the simulation of a major incident.

The exercise at North Weald Airfield near Harlow was designed to replicate a major incident on the M25. Personnel from Essex and Hertfordshire Air Ambulance Trust (EHAAT), Essex Police, Essex County Fire and Rescue Service, and the ambulance service were among those involved.

Students from Anglia Ruskin University, University College London, St Bartholomew's Hospital and The London Medical Schools acted as casualties.

Exercise manager Ben Myer, who is clinical manager of EHAAT, said: "It is not until we are tasked to multi-casualty or resource-demanding incidents that we know how we will react or manage these situations."

"These unfortunately can be time, resource intensive and emotive scenes, so it's important to train in the management to highlight areas of good practice and also to understand where we can learn lessons for the future."

■ On Thursday more than 80 Essex firefighters took part in a search and rescue training exercise at Hanningfield Reservoir which simulated a major air crash. Police officers and the reservoir's rangers were also involved in the exercise.

Former Tory MP to stand for UKIP in PCC election

A FORMER Conservative MP is to stand as a UKIP candidate in the election to choose a new Police and Crime Commissioner for Essex.

Bob Spink represented Castle Point for the Tories before switching to UKIP in 2008. He lost his seat at the 2010 General Election.

He said his key aims were to fight cuts, support frontline policing and help people feel safe.

"We need relentless targeting of known habitual criminals to make their life hell in Essex so they stop ruining decent people's lives," he added. "It's time to turn the screw on crime."

The election will take place in May next year. The current commissioner, Conservative Nick Alston, has already announced that he will not be seeking a second term in office.

Discover more about your family history at workshop

RESIDENTS are being given an opportunity to trace back their Essex ancestors in a workshop taking place at Harlow Museum in Muskham Road.

The event, which runs from 11am to 12.30pm on Tuesday (November 10), offers a chance to meet an Essex Record Office archivist and benefit from their expertise to trace family trees over hundreds of years.

With a limited number of limited places available for the session, people wanting to take part are avoided to book. Tickets cost £10 and can be purchased by calling 03330 132500.

An Essex County Council spokesman said: "Essex Records Office in Chelmsford holds a significant archive with records dating back to the 1400s. This event may be your first step to finding out more."

Family of spine op dad receive payout

Court Reporter

star@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE family of a man who died a week after undergoing a spinal operation has been awarded compensation after a court ruled his death was the result of medical negligence.

Dean Bircham, 51, from Roydon, died five years ago at the Rivers Hospital in Sawbridgeworth.

At a hearing at the Royal Courts of Justice, Mr Bircham's widow, Julie, was awarded an undisclosed sum reported to be seven figures.

Mrs Bircham, 55, has five children including a 16-year-old who requires round-the-clock care for cerebral palsy. The payout will help provide for her.

In a written statement, Mrs Bircham said the death of her husband had been "absolutely devastating".

"We hoped the surgery would relieve the pain he had been dealing with so stoically for many years," she said. "Dean was an amazing father and did everything he could to ensure that our children were happy and enjoyed life.

"They are all still struggling to come to terms with his death. He was a very active dad who made everything so much fun for the children."

Mr Bircham had a history of back pain and sciatica and underwent surgery in the 1990s. The court was told that in 2010 he was referred to Ahmed Hussein, who recommended the procedure. However, Mr Bircham was not properly informed of all the risks.

During the operation a vein was damaged, leading to major blood loss and two amputation procedures.

It was found that Mr Hussein, who did not defend the claim, failed to seek immediate help from a vascular surgeon and wrongly continued the surgery when the vein was in close proximity to the spine.

Medical negligence specialist Alison Eddy, a partner in law firm Irwin Mitchell which represented the family, said the surgery was unnecessary.

She added: "Since Dean's death, Julie and their five children have found it extremely difficult to come to terms with losing him so suddenly and in such tragic circumstances."

"Dean was a fit and healthy man despite his back condition, and he would always ensure that his family's needs were put first."

Rivers Hospital was approached for comment but did not respond.

HARLOW: A man appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday following a robbery at a Co-op supermarket in Harlow on Friday.

Paul Rider, 54, of Copshall Close, Harlow, was arrested at midnight on Saturday.

He was charged with robbery and possession of an imitation firearm at the Co-op store in Maunds Hatch and remanded in custody.

Any witnesses to the robbery that have not yet spoken to police are asked to call DC Leo Fordham at Harlow CID on the Essex Police 101 non-emergency number.

Town centre stabbing

HARLOW: A young man was treated in hospital for a stab wound after he was attacked in the town centre on Sunday.

Police were called to Playhouse Square shortly after 4pm following reports that a man had been assaulted and robbed.

When they arrived they found the 21-year-old victim had suffered a stab wound. He was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Hospice fundraisers kick-off Christmas countdown with 5k fun run

THE countdown to Christmas has started for the fundraising team at St Clare Hospice as it prepares for this year's festive 5km fun run in Harlow.

The popular family-friendly event will take place on Sunday, December 13, starting and finishing at The Water Gardens.

The run starts at 9am and there will be festive food and drink as well as Christmas-themed activities for all ages.

St Clare fundraiser Heather Cameron said: "Our festive fun run promises to be a great way to kick off the countdown to Crimbo – and even earn yourself an extra mince pie."

"We are encouraging everyone who takes part to dress up as anything with a Christmas theme, whether it's Santa and his elves, a reindeer, penguin or snowman costume, Christmas decorations or even a character from the Nativity."

Participants will be able to take part in a special warm-up led by staff from Pure Gym and there will be a best festively dressed competition.

Registration costs £7.50 for adults and £2.50 for children. All those taking part will be asked to pledge to raise a minimum of £45 in sponsorship, a sum enough to cover the cost of providing Christmas dinner to a family staying at the hospice over the festive period.

Runners can also register on the day from 8.15am.

The route is suitable for wheelchairs and pushchairs and dogs are welcome.

The St Clare Festive Fun Run is sponsored by Insight Private Finance. For more information and to register to take part, visit the hospice website at stclarehospice.org.uk

FESTIVE FUN: Three of the fundraising team at St Clare Hospice get into the Christmas spirit for next month's 5km fun run in Harlow

Project manager to oversee transfer of council services

Senior official will be recruited to take charge of switch from Kier

Gemma Gardnergemma.gardner@hertssexnews.co.uk

A SENIOR project manager is to be recruited by Harlow Council to lead the transfer of its environmental and housing maintenance services from Kier Harlow.

The fixed-term position has an annual salary of between £68,020 and £78,484. The contract will run until June 2017.

The current contract for the provision of services by Kier Harlow Ltd ends on January 31, 2017. After that, a Local Authority Trading Company (LATC) set up by the council will take over responsibility for the services

Kier has been providing frontline services including housing repairs and maintenance, repairs to council buildings, street cleaning, grass cutting, pest control and stray dog collection since 2007 when the council entered into a joint venture partnership with Kier Support Services.

Consultants

However, after the council carried out a review of the agreement which included independent reports by consultants at the best way to providing these services in the future, it was decided not to renew the Kier deal.

Funding of the services and the implementation costs of setting up the LATC were included in the options appraisal and will be met from existing approved budgets at no additional cost to council taxpayers.

The council says the appointment of senior project manager to oversee the switch is necessary to ensure the successful transfer of services, staff and resources to the LATC and the "demobilisation" of Kier Harlow Ltd.

Council leader Jon Clempner said: "The transfer of services such as street cleaning, grass cutting and housing maintenance and moving around 400 plus staff is a major task and we are looking for someone with extensive commercial experience who can manage this transition successfully."

He added: "A LATC will give us the flexibility to bring services back under our control while operating commercially. A detailed independent report showed that the LATC option represents the best value for money and is the cheapest option for providing services in the future, while maintaining quality."

"This is why it is important that we get the right person in place with the right calibre to manage this task."

A report on the setting up and governance arrangements for the LATC is expected to be considered by the council's cabinet next month.

PUPILS at a Harlow primary school are being taught essential skills and tricks of the trade to succeed in the business world.

Children at Freshwaters Primary Academy, in School Lane, are being equipped for the boardroom with the help of an Enabling Enterprise programme which has seen pupils get the chance to run their own enterprise project.

The whole school were also involved in a challenge day, pictured right, during which pupils had to learn about the different roles and jobs needed to build a moon base.

At different points through the year, children will visit places of work, starting next month with a trip to a French bank in London.

Head of school Marios Solomonides said: "The vision is when children leave school they are ready for the world of work. One of our curriculum drivers is enterprise and aspirations and this work is all centred around business and aspiration."

"Our young people will learn about the world of work, on this occasion in the financial industry. We want them to see the real link between education and work and understand why they are being taught certain skills and lessons."

He added: "We aren't here just to look after children, we are here to prepare them for life. They need to be prepared for life when they reach Year 11; it's too late to start thinking about it when they reach secondary school. We need children to start thinking about where they are heading, we want them to have an aim and to understand making it a reality comes down to hard work and practice."

"Our children see people on X Factor where they are e working in a supermarket one minute and the next they are pop stars making millions. We can't blame them for thinking that's how success is made, but it's rarely really like that."

Students moved by the plight of Calais refugees

Clothes sent to families living in camps

William Mata

NEWS reports about the conditions faced by refugees living in temporary camps in Calais have moved students at a Harlow school to do something to help.

Burnt Mill Academy and its sister school, Forest Hall School in Stansted, held special assemblies to raise awareness of the situation in Syria and used the crisis as a way to start a debate and an understanding of democracy.

Working with CalAid – a group of volunteers collecting donations for those living in the camps – the schools are sending out clothes to refugee families.

Hannah Jones, humanities teacher at both schools, said: "Our students were moved by the stories of families who have found themselves homeless with no possessions. They decided they would hold a collection to gather clothes to send out to the refugees."

DONATIONS: Burnt Mill Academy students are pictured with some of the bags of clothes they collected for refugee families

"It shows our young people that just because this isn't happening in our country, doesn't mean it isn't happening and we should do what we can to help."

"Our students want to have a positive contribution in the wider community and show awareness of what's going on politically. They have developed empathy skills as they are putting themselves in someone else's shoes and considering what it would be like."

Students were shown the latest Save the Children advert – featuring Burnt Mill student Lily Aslandogdu – which highlights the plight of children living in poverty.

Schools celebrating Black History Month

YOUNGSTERS at schools in Harlow have been taking part in activities to celebrate Black History Month.

All year groups at Little Parndon Primary, in Park Mead, chose a historical black figure to study including Barack Obama, Usain Bolt and Louis Armstrong.

The children will record their findings and experiences in a new floor book in their classes to show what they have been learning.

Over at Roydon Primary School, in Epping Road, pupils celebrated their own diverse community during a special assembly.

Head of school Jenni Elliott said: "We want our children to understand that in many ways we are all similar, but we are also very different and that must be celebrated."

"Text books don't fairly represent black history so this is an opportunity for us to celebrate all those wonderful historical figures who do exist."

Freshwaters Primary Academy, in School Lane, welcomed Efua Sey who told a story about an Anansi, a character from African folklore, and taught the children Ghanaian chants and how to play the drums (pictured above). Year 2 pupils also enjoyed a dance and drama workshop.

Head of school Marios Solomonides said: "It was lovely as one of our classes is called Anansi Spiders and Year 2 are learning about Ghana at the moment."

"It's vital our pupils learn about the world around them and about the history of the different people who make up the world."

DANIEL ROBINSON & SONS

*Independent
Family Funeral Directors
Monumental Masons*

WHY CHOOSE AN INDEPENDENT FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

In all forms of business today there are big national companies that have made their profits through taking over smaller firms. The funeral profession is no exception. Many businesses have changed hands but have not necessarily changed names. That makes it hard for you to distinguish between a family owned firm and the branch of a vast conglomerate. The independent funeral profession has a long and proud history of personal service to local communities. Carrying on the family tradition is a way of life for many independent funeral directors. They are deeply committed to upholding professional standards. Some of the oldest continuously operated businesses in Britain are family-owned firms. Without asking you may never know if the owners your family have trusted over the years continue to make the decisions which will affect the service your receive.

So, when you need the services of a funeral director, just ask. It's important that you know who you're speaking to. Never be embarrassed to ask a funeral director to show you their premises or enquire about the likely costs. A reputable funeral director will be more than happy to answer any questions you may have as to whether there is a Chapel of Rest, whether their staff are qualified, what the fees are, if they have mortuary facilities on site and what age and what type of vehicles are available.

A good funeral director, like Daniel Robinson & Sons will be available 24 hours a day, 52 weeks of the year, offering an emergency service with free advice and counselling. All arrangements will be made on the family's behalf, either at the funeral home or in the privacy of the family's home.

A recent IPSOS Mori report highlighted in a survey of 500 towns in the UK where there was a Co-Op, Dignity & independent funeral director, that the independent funeral director offered the best value and service in every case.

WHY CHOOSE A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN?

Pre-paid funeral plans are already established as a caring and responsible way of making arrangements, services can be tailored to reflect an individual's personality, wishes and life.

With families living further apart and, in some cases moving abroad, it is not unusual for children or relatives to purchase a plan on behalf of an elderly or infirm relative

"We aim to be, for all the communities we serve, the people to turn to in times of bereavement; to ensure, by our wholehearted commitment, that every funeral is carried out to the highest possible standard; and to be available to offer advice, support and assistance at all times."

or parent.

Pre-paid funeral plans are not normally regarded as forming part of a person's assets or estate, so therefore, in some circumstances this may enable the plan holder to claim benefits for which they may not otherwise qualify. This could even prove advantageous with situations involving inheritance tax.

The National Society of Allied & Independent Funeral Directors (SAIF), which Daniel Robinson & Sons are proud members of, recommend Golden Charter pre-paid funeral plans. Golden Charter work solely on behalf of 3,300 independent funeral directors throughout the UK.

Local funeral directors are proud that when plans are made with them they can use their local knowledge to personalise the pre-paid plan for the individual, with a good overview of the community that they serve. They will ensure that the most appropriate services and up to date price information is available, maintaining choice and providing a professional service. Daniel Robinson & Sons are committed to upholding their professional standards and providing both traditional and contemporary services. They are not distracted or bound by corporate rules meaning that they can concentrate on delivering a personal service to you and your family.

When buying a service which is so unique and personal please consider using the services of those with professional knowledge. Today, you can buy a funeral plan over the internet or over the counter at financial institutions, with the possibility that the seller has no interest in the resulting service that you receive and giving no guarantee that your family can use the funeral director of your choice at the time of need.

By offering Golden Charter Independent Way Funeral Plans, Daniel Robinson & Sons ensure that their clients have the reassurance that their money is protected. Your money is paid into the Golden Charter Trust, the money grows and when the time comes to provide the agreed services to your family, the funeral director's services will be paid for no matter how much costs have risen in the intervening period.

For many people the reason that they take out a plan isn't just financial, it is peace of mind that their family will not have to deal with any worries regarding the funeral arrangements and also having the ability to specify their exact wishes. Daniel Robinson & Sons will be pleased to meet you or have a chat over the phone, find out what you have in mind and answer any questions you may have, there is no obligation to ultimately take out a plan.

Please visit their website for further details, or give them a call, www.drobinson.co.uk.

A spot of panda mania

Panda facts

- The giant panda is a solitary animal which spends about two-thirds of its day feeding and the remainder resting.
- Their main source of food is the bamboo plant. They eat the stems, leaves and fresh young shoots and have to consume up to 20kg each day.
- There are only about 1,000 giant pandas left living in the wild and they are classified as endangered.
- The giant panda does not hibernate but shelters in caves or hollow trees in very cold weather.
- Baby pandas are pink and blind when they are born and measure about 15cm. They only open their eyes several weeks after birth.

IN what must be one of the cutest pictures of the year, a photograph has been released of 12 giant panda cubs which have been born in China.

The six pairs of adorable twins were born at the Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding during the past four months.

Hou Rong, who works as director of research at the base, said they did not expect so many twin births this year.

Celebrations to mark the new arrivals have been taking place, with people getting the chance to act as panda keepers, attend lectures about the animals and even name some of the cubs.

Twin pandas have accounted for 90 per cent of all panda births in China this year, compared with an average of 50 per cent in previous years.

Stay well this winter – make sure you are prepared and protected

A MAJOR drive to help people stay well this winter has been launched by Public Health England and NHS England.

The NHS Stay Well This Winter campaign is urging people age 65 or over, or those with long-term health conditions such as diabetes, stroke, heart disease or respiratory illness, to prepare for winter with advice on how to ward off common illnesses.

The advice from the health experts is as follows:

- If you start to feel unwell, even if it's just a cough or a cold, then get help from your pharmacist quickly before it gets more serious.
- Make sure you get your flu jab if you are eligible.

- Keep yourself warm - heat your home to least 18C (65F) if you can.

- Make sure you get your prescription medicines before pharmacies close on Christmas eve.

- Always take your prescribed medicines as directed.

The Stay Well This Winter campaign will make sure that people have the information they need to help them look after themselves this winter and also to know the best place to go for urgent advice, whether that is their local pharmacy, NHS Choices, NHS 111 or A&E.

As in previous years, the flu vaccine programme is an important part of this campaign. The adult flu vaccine will be offered free to those in groups at particular risk of infection and complications from flu including those age 65 or over, those age under 65 with long-term health conditions, pregnant women and carers.

This year, for the first time, all our youngest primary school children will be eligible to receive the free nasal spray vaccine, making this the largest school-based vaccination programme in England involving children in 17,000 schools.

The children's flu vaccine programme will seek to help over three million two-six year-olds, as the programme is extended to children in school Years 1 and 2.

Parents are encouraged to complete consent forms to allow immunisation teams to administer the nasal spray flu vaccine to their children.

For those children in areas where the vaccination is not offered through schools, they will be offered the vaccination at their local GP or pharmacy.

STAY HEALTHY: Health experts advise seeking advice from your pharmacist

What to do if you feel unwell this winter

■ Don't wait

Get advice from your nearest pharmacist. Winter can make existing health problems worse, so if you feel like you're coming down with something, even if it's just a cough or a cold, don't wait until it gets worse.

■ Act quickly

The sooner you get advice from a pharmacist the better.

Pharmacists are fully qualified to advise you on the best course of action so go to see a pharmacist as soon as you start to feel unwell.

This can be the best and quickest way to help you recover and get back to normal.

If you can't get to a pharmacist yourself, ask someone to go for you or call your local pharmacy.

■ Medication

Is your medicine cabinet ready for the winter? Most common winter ailments, such as a cold, sore throat, cough, sinusitis or painful middle ear infection (earache), can't be treated with antibiotics. The best thing to do is:

- Rest
- Drink plenty of fluids
- Have at least one hot meal a day to keep your energy levels up
- Talk to your pharmacist for advice on getting any pain relief you need such as paracetamol or ibuprofen.

■ Flu jab

Make sure you get your flu jab. The flu virus strikes in winter and it can be far more serious than you think.

Flu can lead to serious complications such as bronchitis and pneumonia, and it can be deadly.

That's why the flu jab is free if you're aged 65 or over, or if you have a long-term health condition.

If you have children or grandchildren aged two, three or four, or in school years one or two, they are eligible for a free flu vaccination.

And if you are the main carer of an older or disabled person you may also be eligible for the free flu jab. Just speak to your GP.

■ Look out for others

Remember that other people, like older neighbours, friends and family members, may need a bit of extra help over the winter. There's a lot you can do to help people who are more frail than you.

If you do need help over the holiday period when your GP surgery or pharmacy is closed, call NHS 111 and speak to a call adviser who will be able to direct you to a local service that is open. You can also visit NHS Choices at www.nhs.uk

■ Five things to do to keep winter illnesses at bay

- 1) Visit your local pharmacist as soon as you start to feel unwell
- 2) Make sure you get your flu jab
- 3) Keep your home at least 18C (65F) if you can
- 4) Take advantage of financial schemes and discounts to help you pay for heating
- 5) Look out for other people who may need a bit of extra help over the winter

Fire service warns of danger from candles

ESSEX fire chiefs are urging householders to take extra care if they planning on lighting candles in their homes this winter.

Across the UK last year almost 1,000 house fires were started by candles, claiming 11 lives and leaving 385 people injured.

Divisional officer Neil Fenwick, of Essex Fire and Rescue Service, said: "At this time of year it's not unusual to see candles lit in homes. It could be part of a romantic dinner, to create a warm and cosy atmosphere on a cold evening or to even spread a pleasant aroma around the house.

"What people often forget is that they are not just another piece of furniture. They create a very real risk of fire and it's important to be careful if you're using candles in your home."

The service has issued the following list of tips when using candles:

- Make sure they are secured in a proper holder and are away from materials like curtains that may catch fire.
- Do not leave children alone in a room with lit candles.
- Put candles out when you leave the room and make sure they're completely extinguished at night.
- Keep the wax pool clear of wick trimmings, matches and debris at all times.
- Burn candles in a well-ventilated room but avoid drafts, vents or air currents. This will help prevent rapid or uneven burning, sooting, and excessive dripping.
- Trim the wick to ¼ inch each time before burning. Long or crooked wicks can cause uneven burning, dripping or flaring.
- Don't move candles once they are lit.
- Follow the manufacturer's recommendations on burn time and proper use.
- Do not burn several candles close together as this might cause flaring (mainly with tealights).
- Use a snuffer or a spoon to put out candles. It's safer than blowing them out when sparks can fly.

Mr Fenwick added: "It is also vitally important that all homes have a properly fitted and working smoke alarm. They are proven lifesavers but it is vital to make sure that they are in full working order. A non-functioning smoke detector will not provide any warning at all."

Police hunt for man who stabbed teenager in leg

DETECTIVES investigating an attempted robbery in Harlow during which a teenager was stabbed in the leg have released an efit image, left, of a man they want to question.

The incident happened shortly after 6pm on Thursday, October 15.

A man thought to be about 30 years old approached the teenager while he was walking along a public footpath in Tendring Road.

He demanded the boy hand over his mobile phone. When the victim refused the man stabbed him in the right thigh, leaving the boy with a puncture wound.

The suspect is described as white, of large build, 5ft 11ins tall with brown hair which was brushed to one side. He wore a grey Nike top, black trousers and brown trainers.

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to contact DC Gav Morris at Harlow CID on 101.

Spirit of punk still in PUNK rockers of the 1970s were infamous for their carpe diem attitude that saw bands burn out as fast as they were formed.

But there is an exception to every rule and 40 years after they formed, UK Subs are still flying the flag for a style not quite consigned to history.

UK Subs are finishing their 26th and final album of their career-long A-Z series at The Square, Fourth Avenue, Harlow, tomorrow (Friday).

Lead singer Charlie Harper has been the one consistency in the many line-up changes and is "excited" about their final concert in the town.

"The atmosphere at The Square is ferocious," said Charlie.

"Even before The Subs, I can remember playing there with my own band in around 1970. I can remember Mungo Jerry were playing as well and it seemed like quite a triumph to be on the bill alongside them.

"The atmosphere in The Square is more like a proper club, although the stage is quite high which gives a bit of protection.

"I can't wait to be playing there again."

The gig at The Square will kick off a creative process for the band, who have a new album in the pipeline.

Charlie said he is coming to terms with the album series drawing to a close.

"We are just about to finish the final ever album Zizie," said Charlie.

"We released the penultimate one Yellow Leader earlier this year and we're thinking Zizie could be done in the early part of 2016. That will be job done.

"I never imagined we would do a whole alphabet when I first began, as I only imagined we would ever do three or four, but here we are.

"The reason for sequencing the names was just because it helped me remember which order they came in."

Critics may argue that completing such a long-series may be making music for the sake of making music, with album titles like Killing

Time hardly dispelling the myth.

However, Charlie considers some of the band's more recent work to be their strongest ever.

"If you ever ask any of the fans they'll probably say they liked Another Kind of Blues. Personally I really liked Gross Out USA, but I'm also really proud of the last couple of albums, especially Yellow Leader.

"I'd have to say my favourite is Endangered Species which some of the fans didn't like so much because it's a bit more heavy and rocky. But the last album went down really well, and I think we've only got three songs left to do with the new one.

"While this is the final album, we're definitely going to continue as a touring band and I want to put all of my energies into that rather than releasing an album every other year.

"We want to make the last album really great."

Even at the age of 71, Charlie is still as committed to the cause as ever, but does have at least one eye on the future.

Family fun promised at Playhouse pantomime

MIRROR, mirror on the wall, what's the best panto of them all? Why, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs of course.

This festive season looks set to become another bumper year at the Playhouse, as plans are underway for one of its biggest shows to date.

Not only will the production feature a stunning professional cast drawn from the worlds of musical theatre and variety entertainment, the show will also feature seven of the best dwarfs from the worlds of stage and screen.

Tom Swift will be making a welcome return after his hugely popular comic leads in Peter Pan and Aladdin, and recent Easter musicals The Wizard of Oz and Robin Hood.

Starring alongside him will be UK pantomime heavy-weights Jimmy Burton-Iles, Nicola Weeks, Amanda Swift and Jake Hendricks.

Among the dwarfs will be the Bennett family - three generations of short actors with more than 90 years of experience between them and having starred in everything from Star Wars to Harry Potter.

The show will also feature 20 members of Playhouse resident performing arts school The Pauline Quirke Academy alongside the shows professional chorus.

Harlow Playhouse director Scott Ramsay, said: "The cast and creative team is so incredibly strong for Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, with stunning voices and brilliant comic abilities taking it another notch higher this year.

"With the addition of seven of the best short actors in the business, this is going to be a bumper show.

"There will be number of big surprises along the way too, with cutting-edge effects and twists in the tale. But at its heart will be lots of laugh-out-loud comedy and magic, to get the endorphins going and to create feel-good Christmas memories."

■ Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs will play from Sunday, December 6, to Sunday, January 3, in the Harlow Playhouse main auditorium. Tickets range from £11.50 to £23.50.

fashion with UK Subs

With many of the songs written for Zizie having more on an acoustic guitar base this could be a natural progression for a man looking for a new project.

"Going solo is an option and I have started to play some concerts by myself.

"Our songs are written on acoustic guitar, so it would not be a completely new direction. I'm beginning to think of it as my future.

"But I will still play on with UK Subs that will always come first."

More than 50 musicians have played with or been part of the band over the years, but for a long time the band have settled in their line-up with Charlie as lead vocalist, Jet on guitar, Alvin Gibbs on bass and Jamie Oliver on drums.

Charlie added: "We're going to keep playing as a band for a while yet as it's what we all love doing.

"UK Subs are a touring band and we will keep on going until we die."

■ UK Subs will play alongside Antibodies and Clampdown at The Square, Fourth Avenue, Harlow on Friday November 6 at 8pm. Tickets cost £12 and can be bought from <http://www.thesquareharlow.com/listings/>

New type of festive show for youngest audience

A FESTIVE show designed specifically for younger audiences will be on stage in Harlow in the run up to Christmas.

Santa's Dizzy Day is a new kind of show for Harlow Playhouse, set in Santa's workshop audiences will get the chance to meet Ellie the Elf, Rudolph and, of course, Santa.

There will be lots of singing of well-known Christmas tunes, helping Santa get ready with his deliveries, and a meet and greet with Santa, with presents.

Harlow Playhouse director Scott Ramsay said "We recognise that taking younger children to see pantomime can feel risky for parents and teachers, so we're adding a new type of show for children aged two to six and their families or teachers.

"There isn't anything like this in the area and we're looking to make this an annual event, to complement our existing panto offer. I'd urge parents to let their nurseries, pre-schools or nurseries know about this new local provision."

Santa's Dizzy Day has been written by Iain Laughlan, creator of The Tweenies and writer of many hit children's shows, from Finger Mouse to Justin's House.

Performance times vary to accommodate nurseries, pre-schools, schools and families. The show lasts 45 minutes, with a Santa meet and greet afterwards.

Santa's Dizzy Day will run from Saturday, December 12 to Thursday, December 24 in the Playhouse Studio Theatre. Tickets from £8.50 to £11.50.

LOVEBIRDS:
Emory Cohen
and Saoirse
Ronan in Brooklyn

Brooklyn

DRAMA/ROMANCE (12A) 112 minutes

Director: John Crowley

YOUNG hearts run free on opposite sides of the Atlantic in John Crowley's handsome romance, adapted for the screen by Nick Hornby from Colm Toibin's novel of the same name.

Set in the early 1950s, Brooklyn harks back to a bygone era of restrictive social mores and is anchored by a tour-de-force performance from Saoirse Ronan as an innocent abroad, whose journey from County Wexford to the towering skyscrapers of New York coincides with her transition to womanhood.

The 21-year-old Irish-American actress doesn't hit a false emotional note, contrasting the naïveté of her heroine's early days away from home with the self-assurance of an immigrant, who finally realises that she belongs.

Sweeping production and costume design evoke the era with aplomb, accentuated by Michael Brook's gorgeous orchestral score.

Equally appealing are Emory Cohen and Domhnall Gleeson as rival suitors for the heroine's affections. Both actors kindle smouldering on-screen chemistry with Ronan, so we're undecided, like her, which of them she should choose as her sanctuary.

Eilis Lacey (Ronan) is a shrinking violet in Enniscorthy. She lives with her mother (Jane Brennan) and older sister Rose (Fiona Glascott), and earns a meagre crust - and withering rebukes - at the local shop run by the imperious Miss Kelly (Brid Brennan).

Thanks to Rose, Eilis secures a one-way ticket to a brighter future in New York.

Holy man Father Flood (Jim Broadbent) places Eilis at a boarding house for single girls run by Mrs Kehoe (Julie Walters), who clucks over the lodgers.

Eilis' homesickness gradually fades and she excels as a salesgirl at a department store under stylish floor manager Miss Fortini (Jessica Pare). She also sparks a tender romance with a handsome plumber called Tony (Cohen).

The lovebirds marry in secret, but when Eilis returns home to Enniscorthy, local boy Jim Farrell (Gleeson) unexpectedly turns her head and makes her hanker for small-town life.

BEAUTY

A very BERRY Christmas

Red stole the show on the AW/15 runways, and will be a permanent fixture this festive season.

But, if post-box red from head to toe is a bit much for you, why not make like Dolce & Gabbana, Marc Jacobs, and Carolina Herrera and go for make-up in deep, berry-coloured hues.

Whether it's a blackcurrant lip or cherry red nails, there's an on-trend look to suit every skin tone this Christmas.

Libby McBride checks out the best ways to achieve that berry sophisticated look...

Provocalips in Berry Seductive, Rimmel, £6.99

This exclusive two-step lip colour lasts for up to 16 hours for a kiss-proof pout. Step one: slick on the colour. Step two: lock it in for shine and moisture.

Lipfinity Long Lasting Lipstick in So Luxuriant, MaxFactor, £8.99

The natural, oil-rich formula helps combat dry lips, and this is the perfect deep red to match any skin tone. The breakthrough moisture-replenishing lipstick glides over lips giving them a cashmere-soft feel as well as a vibrant colour that lasts.

Lip Liner in Berry and Lipstick in Aster, Arbonne, £18 and £20

These botanical vegan products would work perfectly together to create a berry pout for that magic moment under the mistletoe this festive season.

They're Real! Push Up Eye Liner in Beyond Purple, Benefit, £18.50

Going for berry colours on the eye is a brave move, but with the perfect product it can look amazing. This matte gel liner is waterproof and won't smudge, budge or dry out for 24 hours. The soft tip hugs your lash line, enabling you to achieve the perfect cat eye flick, with a berry twist.

Lip Crayon in Napa Vineyard, Burt's Bees, £8.99

This is perfect for the burgundy matte lips that were all over the catwalk this season. The natural ingredients help to soften lips and give a more solid colour.

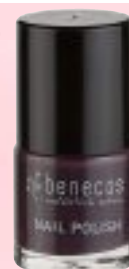

Easy on the Eye Palette, in The Big Smoke, Seventeen, £7.99

'Big Smoke' has a selection of deep purples, if you'd rather a smokey eye than a dark lip. This palette features a collection of eight matte, shimmer and pearl powders, three metallic creams and an eye primer with dual-ended applicator.

Nail Polish, Benecos, Deep plum, £6.95

For the perfect cherry-red talons to compliment that Christmas party dress, this is the polish. No base coat needed, but finish off the look with a coat of Benecos clear nail polish.

Lipstick in Blackberry, C.A.K.E Cosmetics, £7.99

This blackberry lip colour is bold, and perfect for making an impact this Christmas. Made with shea butter, coconut and jojoba oil, it helps treat chapped lips.

Be chased by the wicked goblins for some pantomime laughs

THIS Christmas, it's time to let your hair down and join the fun in the all-new production of Rapunzel at the Victoria Hall Theatre, Old Harlow.

This reimagining of the original Brothers Grimm fairytale has music, mayhem and plenty of magic to enchant children at this special festive time of year. Bring the whole family and enjoy the story with a new tangled twist.

Rapunzel, kidnapped as a child by the Wicked Witch Gothel, is freed from her tower prison by the handsome Prince, who promises to show her the world.

Their plans change when Gothel finds out and banishes Rapunzel to the Land of Eternal Winter. The Prince, his page Brian, and Rapunzel's friend Pandora the cat, ever pursued by the witches' goblins, set off on an adventure to find her once again.

Tickets are £12 for adults and £10 for a child/concession and they are on sale via www.victoriahalltheatre.co.uk or 0333 666 3366 (a booking fee of £1.50 is charged on telephone bookings).

Evening Performances: December 17-23, and December 27 at 7.30pm.

The 12 beers of Christmas

Beer aficionado Darryl Webber picks out some interesting brews for the festive season

Christmas time, mistletoe and... beer! There are so many good brews around these days, it would be churlish not to knock back a few in the festive season which is, after all, one big round of eating, drinking and carousing.

And rather than just stick to ye olde multi-pack of multi-national lager, why not try out some more diverse and interesting beers. It's not hard to find them; supermarkets sell stacks of real ale and craft beer these days, and you can always find them at source from a local brewer or in farm shops and online.

These 12 beers of Christmas aren't necessarily a dozen bottles brewed especially for the festive season, although some are, and they're not all local. Instead, they're a variety of beers that will serve you well throughout Christmas.

Brentwood Brewing Company: Chockwork Orange 6.5%

As you'd expect from the name, there's a deep chocolatey, malty flavour to this classic strong ale, which gets a lift from the citrusy zing of oranges. At 6.5%, it's probably a bit too strong for a session beer but it's a good choice to get the night going and very quaffable.

Farmer's Ales: Christmas Stout 4.8%

I've always thought stout is for sipping rather than gulping, a beer to take your time over and fully appreciate the often quite complex flavours. This is ideal for that sort of contemplative drinking you do when struggling through the festive season wondering what on earth is the point of it all. Full bodied with coffee and chocolate flavours, it also has a sprinkling of Maldon Sea Salt (well, Farmer's are a Maldon brewery) making for an interesting combination for the tastebuds.

Adnams: Ghost Ship, 4.5%

The Southwold brewers don't make a bad beer to my knowledge (and I've tried a few), but this one has won a place in my affections after many a pint while staying on the Suffolk coast. Apart from conjuring up happy memories of sunny seaside days in midwinter, this pale ale has a satisfying mix of citrusy hops and bitterness to make it an excellent session beer. Ideal for getting through a long day with the relatives.

Duvel: 8.5%

Small but powerful, this Belgian beer may come in a dinky bottle but it packs a punch, both in strength and flavour. It's brewed for around 90 days in a process too complicated to detail here, but the result is a beautiful balance of bitter and sweet flavours. It would go well with those salty snacks that abound during the festive season but perhaps leave this strong brew for late in the day rather than as your midday tippie.

Mighty Oak: Sergeant Pepper 4.2%

The Maldon brewer's December offering is an intriguing one, what they call a "brassy traditional ale" brewed with a new English hop variety, Endeavour. The interesting bit is the blackcurrant, grapefruit and spicy flavours that cut through the biscuity maltiness. I can imagine this going down well when the cheese board is brought out.

Pig & Porter: Gothic Imperial Stout, 7.4%

Are you dreaming of a black Christmas? Here's a stout to put hairs on your chest, with big coffee, plum, port and chocolate flavours along with hints of cherries, figs and plums. In fact, it's pretty much the sweet flavours of the season in a glass. Have it with (or instead of) your Christmas pudding.

Bishop Nick: Feast 4.6%

Carrying on the Ridley family tradition of brewing, Bishop Nick produces some mighty fine beers and here's its winter offering. A hearty, strong ale packed with festive fruit and spice flavours and with a rich pudding colour thanks to the carared malt they use. One to drink with pals round a roaring fire.

Round Tower: Liminal 4.5%

This Chelmsford brewery may be a newcomer but it's already renowned for its impressive beers and this is no exception.

An autumnal copper beer made with pale ale, chocolate and crystal malts, it's hopped with aurora and bobek making for a full flavour that's not too heavy on the palate.

One to get you through the Downton Abbey Christmas special.

Robinson's: Old Tom 8.5%

Hold on to your Santa hat, this isn't a beer to be taken lightly. Once you've feasted for the day, settle into your favourite comfy chair and crack open a bottle of this.

It's got a cat on the label, is black in colour and has a nutty, malty flavour with a hint of liquorice. One to savour with a handful of roasted chestnuts.

Timothy Taylor: Landlord 4.3%

This classic strong pale ale has won loads of awards including CAMRA's champion beer of the year four times, and you can see why.

Refreshing with a hoppy aroma, this slips down a little too easily. Perhaps one to give lager lovers if you want to convert them to the dark side over Christmas.

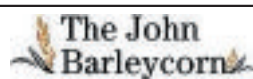

Meantime: Raspberry Wheat Beer 5%

London's Meantime has been at the forefront of the craft beer movement and here's an interesting variation on its wheat beer. Fresh raspberry puree is added to give a crisp fruity zing as well as colour. Great with strong cheeses or pates, this would also be a good match with the copious amounts of chocolate you're bound to consume over the festive period.

Beavertown: Black IPA 7.4%

Another interesting craft brewer, Beavertown makes beers as interesting as its gonzo-gothic artwork. The idea for this one apparently came from chewy sweets like Blackjacks and Fruit Salads. Flavourwise, it's a combination of tropical fruits and aniseed with roasted bitterness that works well. It would be great with cold meats and pickles on Boxing Day.

GREAT AUGER STREET, NEWHALL

'...A Stunning Piece Of Architecture Offering You A Grand Design Lifestyle To Match...'

On entering the hallway you are drawn to an open plan kitchen / dining room with study area. Wide glazed doors open out to the landscaped low maintenance rear garden which enjoys a sunny westerly aspect with part patio and decked area with water feature. There is a utility room offering important storage with door out to a side passage which allows entry to the garage and gardens. The separate music/reading room snug could be adapted to be an office or study playroom. On the first floor there is a great sized living room enjoying views across open space. There are two similar sized bedrooms benefitting from a separate wet room. The second floor enjoys a master bedroom with walk through dressing area which leads to a modern en suite bathroom with shower. Sliding doors lead out to a westerly facing terrace which in turn overlooks the gardens and open playing fields. Across the landing is a good sized room currently used as an office/studio which would be an ideal fourth bedroom benefitting from its own terrace and open views over open space.

ARIES MARCH 21 – APRIL 20

Trouble or stress with close ones has, and continues to get on top of you. Try to call a truce sooner or later as there appears to be much that has gone on that you are not yet aware of. Facts will soon come to light which will make you glad you played a supportive role. Ring now to hear how contact from far away brings good news.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 348 65p per minute

TAURUS APRIL 21 – MAY 21

Many of the signs are talking for the sake of it, so you would be wise this week to believe nothing of what you hear and only half of what you see. Younger faces in particular need handling with kid gloves as they may telling you what you want to hear rather than what you need to. Ring now to hear what mystery Mars adds.

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 21

There is a strong trend for romance in your chart which is going to be making it difficult for you to keep any secrets under wraps. News on family gives you reason to feel like a weight has been lifted from your shoulders, as you're finally able to focus on the present and the future instead of just the past. Ring now for more on this productive week.

CANCER JUNE 22 – JULY 22

Instead of talking or shouting at a close one, why not try speaking from the heart this week? You're sure to find far more common ground if you do. Forms you fill in at this time move you a step closer toward the career of your dreams. You've done a lot of growing up this year and you're about to gain the rewards for it. Ring now for a preview.

LEO JULY 23 – AUGUST 23

There is a really celebratory air to your chart this week, where you finally feel as if your hard work and efforts have been noticed by those around you. Time spent with someone from your past helps fill in many blanks and explains why they acted so distantly. Ring now to hear why this is a great time for your sign to commit to further education.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 352 65p per minute

VIRGO AUGUST 24 – SEPTEMBER 22

Other's emotional problems are getting on top of you, but you have to ask yourself if you are really helping them, or could it be that you are simply enabling them? Once you've answered this question honestly, then you'll know what to do. An offer from far away may come at a price, but it's one worth considering. Ring now so we can talk more.

LIBRA SEPTEMBER 23 – OCTOBER 23

Unexpected visitors arrive as Mars brings more twists and turns to your life than the spaghetti junction. You are left wondering how you really feel about your current set up. Time is on your side, so please try to use it to view the evidence of what is sure to be an exhausting but very learned week my friend. Ring now to hear who is a negative influence.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 354 65p per minute

SCORPIO OCTOBER 24 – NOVEMBER 21

Romance is well starred and you finally get the chance to wear your heart on your sleeve without worrying what others think of you. Careful of spending money you may need at a later date for personal issues. Travel is a part of you successfully clearing a deal before this month is over. Ring now to hear how saving earns you interest by January.

SAGITTARIUS NOVEMBER 22 – DECEMBER 20

Although younger people are a cause of concern for you, there have been enough events which have trained for you to realise that you can afford to cut the apron strings. New beliefs you've adopted empower you and help you make decisions which, this time last year, you didn't have the strength to make. Ring now for clarity.

CAPRICORN DECEMBER 21 – JANUARY 20

You begin new projects and are finally given a push in the right direction. Could it be true that this time last month you were doing what looked right? It would appear so my friend. This is a great week to break bad habits and to form new and lasting friendships. You're on a roll. Go with it. Ring now to hear how political links join up with love affairs.

AQUARIUS JANUARY 21 – FEBRUARY 19

What you think is a promise from a close one may well turn out to be nothing more than a suggestion by the time you follow up on it, so try to get all promises in front of a third party so you don't feel like you're losing the plot. A chance to go somewhere really alternative this weekend should be accepted. Ring now for the month in full.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 358 65p per minute

PISCES FEBRUARY 20 – MARCH 20

Try not to discuss any delicate issues with those who are not involved directly, or you will end up opening a very large can of worms my friend. I know you want to talk about it, but it is really your business to broach this week? Try to show support from afar, it's the only way you'll keep tabs on your own life. Ring now for a surprise prediction in love.

Wonder Wall's gruelling trio of big races

YOU might think Harlow Running Club member Will Wall hit a brick wall after three gruelling races in Hampshire and Berkshire.

But the stamina-sapping events were no problem for the runner, although he had to contend with lots of mud and stream crossings, some waist deep.

On Saturday morning Wall competed in the Grim Duathlon near Farnborough in Hampshire, consisting of a 5km run, 20km bike ride and a 5km run.

He finished in 26th out of 178 in 1:47:17.

During the evening Wall completed the Grim Blackout nearby, a night time run of seven miles. He was 15th out of 146 finishers in 50:51.

On Sunday, Wall completed the Muddy MoRun at Swinley Forest Bracknell in Berkshire, a race in support of Movember, finishing 18th out of 103 in 1:24:41.

The Lake District was the picturesque location for Daniel Jephcott for the Derwentwater ten mile race.

He was 108th out of 435 in a fantastic personal best (PB) time of 69:47, which is a new HRC U20 record.

Six appeals as Harlow show summit special

Clinical table-toppers make it 28 goals in six games

East Men's Hockey League, Division Six South East

alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

TABLE-TOPPING Harlow's strong start to the season continued as they picked up their sixth win of the campaign.

Second from bottom Basildon ODF were thrashed 5-1, and Harlow have now netted 28 times already.

But second-placed Clacton remain on their coat-tails in the East Men's Hockey League Division Six South East, with both sides locked on 18 points, five clear of third-placed Chelmsford thirds.

Harlow soon tested Basildon's defensive resolve with some quick-fire shots and a goalmouth scramble that was eventually cleared.

The breakthrough came around 15 minutes, as Andy Boughtwood added to his rising tally by firing home past the motionless goalkeeper.

True

The second goal was a true team goal, with the ball starting with keeper Rich Norris, working through the defence and midfield before Luke Krzoska slipped the ball through to Cyrus Mace to slide into a bottom corner of the net.

At the other end, the hosts switched off and Norris made a key double save to ensure the two-goal lead was preserved heading into half-time.

After the break, Harlow decided

IT'S SO EASY: Harlow grab another goal on Saturday through Kyle Plumridge to go for the throat.

Pull-back Kim Harvey surged forward along with half-back Kyle Plumridge, who tucked in Harlow's third after a Stuart Kirk assist.

Within minutes Harlow made it four, as Plumridge crashed the ball into the D for Carl Chandler to whip past the keeper.

With a flurry of changes from the bench, Harlow lost a little composure and shape resulting in an ODF late consolation goal.

However, Harlow were stung and soon made it five as Cyrus Mace capitalised on a goalkeeper error and walked the ball into an open goal.

Harlow face an evening trip to fourth-placed Old Loughtonians on Saturday, and will look to strengthen their promotion credentials.

Royals dethroned by top Hawks

Not a gr-eight day!

Herts Basketball League Cup, first round

East Herts Royals 57
Harlow Hawks 69

IT was tight and tense but Harlow Hawks eventually overcame East Herts Royals by 12 points in a thrilling match in Ware.

The game started off slowly for the Hawks, scoring just two points within the first five minutes and Royals took a ten-point lead.

Hawks' defence was pretty shaky but baskets from Rimantas Norkeliunas and a three pointer from U18 player Sam Cooper brought the points difference to nine.

The quarter ended with Royals leading Hawks 18-9.

It seemed that the Hawks had rectified their defensive errors in the second quarter and stepped up a gear, making some crucial stops and forcing Royals into errors and turnovers.

The Hawks went on a 9-2 run at the beginning of the second quarter and brought the game to within two points at the halfway point of the quarter.

Shab Niaz made an impact in this quarter, scoring seven points including a three-pointer. Norkeliunas scored in the final seconds as the Hawks went into the half-time break one point ahead (27-28).

In the third quarter the Hawks started off nervously and lost their lead within a few minutes, going down by seven points.

A time out was called and the tables quickly turned with two three-pointers back to back from Cooper and Niaz to cut the deficit to a single point.

It was from that point that Hawks went on a superb 13-0 run and were 44-38 ahead at the end of this quarter.

The Essex side had a slim lead going into the fourth quarter and had to keep the defence tight and minimise any errors.

Trading baskets in the first five minutes the Royals had brought it to a one-point game and by which time both teams were in foul trouble.

The Hawks were sent to the free throw line four times in the last five minutes of the quarter, but only managed a shooting percentage of 50 per cent.

Lee Morris and Norkeliunas helped Hawks maintain the lead and take it back to a ten-point game with three minutes to play.

By this time victory was out of reach for the Royals and the Hawks ended the match with an excellent 69-57 margin of success.

The initial stages of the Herts Cup this season is being played in a round-robin format between the teams in Division One.

The top four in the group will advance to the semi-finals, which are scheduled for mid-January.

HARLOW HAWKS (points scorers): Norkeliunas 25, S. Niaz 17, Morris 10, S. Cooper 8, Fuhrmann 5, Jones 2, Friedner 2, M. Niaz 0, Savcenko 0.

HALLOWE'EN turned into a horror show for Harlow Ladies, as they were put to the sword by promotion-chasing Southend & Benfleet.

The second-placed team looked dynamic and Laura Hay's side were clearly going to see their chances of securing a fourth successive win bite the dust.

The visitors had their own former National League player in their ranks, illustrating the golf in class.

Sometimes taking three and four players out of the game with her consistently technical and always full speed dribbles, Harlow knew they were in for a difficult match.

Four other Southend players had similar technical ability, including the centre-back, ensuring a tough day for the hosts.

Southend keeper wasn't troubled during the match, and her side led 5-0 at the break.

Harlow player Emma Tweddle said: "In all honesty it could have been much worse with good saves from [Linda] Rowley, line clearances from [Sam] Care and last-ditch tackles."

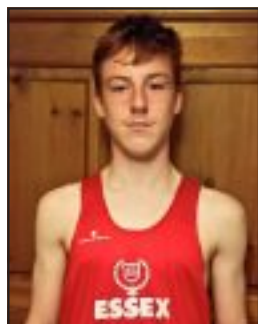

Harlow continued to try to attack through Rowena Rickett down the left and Tanishaka Naidoo on the right, but breakaways were even harder to deal with and Southend had lots of chances and short corners that were well defended.

"There are few teams in the league that could match Southend and Benfleet and they should surely challenge for promotion," added Tweddle (left).

Harlow are seventh.

Essex call-up after England Champs joy

ATHLETE Sidnie Ward has been selected to run for Essex on December 12 in the South of England Inter Counties Championships at Biggleswade.

It follows the 12-year-old Burnt Mill pupil's success in the All-England Cross Country Relay Championships at Mansfield, Nottinghamshire.

It was his first national competition.

He was the fastest U13 runner on the day over a hilly 2km course, running 6min 41sec, which is believed to be one of the fastest ever recorded for that age group since this event started in 1988.

Liam Waldron, 12, a Burnt Mill student, was eighth out of the 80-strong field, completing his leg in 7:45.

Brandon Baldacci, who lives in Old Harlow, was 22nd in 8:18.

Ben's golden haul pleases Penguins

Club secures the county bragging rights

Swimming

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TEN-YEAR-OLD Ben Stringer returned with five gold medals and a bronze as the Harlow Penguins Swimming Club got the county bragging rights at the Cheshunt Open.

The Harlow Leisurezone-based club sent a junior squad of 59 swimmers to the competition on Saturday.

They didn't have too far to travel as the event was held at Leisurezone, and, while not being a home event, the swimmers showed their class in the familiar surroundings of their home pool.

On his way to a six-medal haul, Ben set personal best (PB) times in two winning performances: in the 100m freestyle (1min 16.25sec) and the 100m breaststroke (1:37.92).

Victorious

He was also victorious in the 50m freestyle (34.68), 50m breaststroke (45.13) and 50m backstroke (41.86).

Close behind Ben, was Alessandro Rioda, who also claimed five top place finishes on the day.

He won the 11 years 100m backstroke (1:16.05), 100m butterfly (1:12.95), 50m butterfly (32.59), 50m backstroke (34.05) and the 50m freestyle (29.85).

In total Penguins had a further 11 swimmers who won gold medals at the meet.

PERFECT PENGUINS: The successful Penguins squad at the Cheshunt Open

Alastair Stewart and Kate Henshall claimed two top finishes each, as well as two further medals.

Taavo Moran, Max McAuliffe, Max Arnold, Tyler Jackson, Phoebe White, Keir Rees, Ewan Bulloch, Kitty Jarvis and Francesca Rioda also were victorious in their respective swims.

"Penguins junior swimmers showed their class at the meet. Apart from those winning gold medals there were swimmers such as Ethan Ryan and Jenna Ayres achieving their first Essex County Qualifying Times and there was about a 60 per cent success rate on swimmers achieving personal best times, which confirms the continued improvement of the swimmers across the club," explained club head coach Martin Stringer.

The meet also gave some of the club's youngest stars the chance to show their talent.

Evie Jamieson, Jack Ranyard, Jack Rushworth and Harry Pasquariello all achieved best times and in future meets they will continue to improve.

If anyone would like to join Penguins or have a trial, details can be found on the Harlow Penguins website (<https://harlowpenguins.wordpress.com/>) or email join@harlowpenguins.com or call 07787 318558.

Town put six past Merstham box, before rifling a fantastic effort from the edge of the box into the roof of the net.

With half-time approaching Fabio Saraiva struck the Harlow right post.

The hosts failed to clear and Tom Kavanagh's 25-yard angled drive from the right produced an outstanding save from Hawks keeper Niklas Freund.

The warning signs were there and Merstham made sure they were still in the game with two goals in first-half stoppage time.

The Harlow defence stood off Michael Abnett and the right-back smashed a fierce left-footed strike into the bottom left corner.

Then in the fourth minute of stoppage time it was 5-2 when a mistake from Freund allowed Aaron Rhule to stab home at the left post.

Chapman added: We gave them a little bit of hope when we didn't need to."

Sub Jared Small set up birthday boy Junior Dadson for Harlow's sixth on 66 minutes, the striker tucking in from close range after the Merstham defence went AWOL once again.

There were a few more thrills and spills but no more goals as Harlow sealed a second qualifying round tie at Ryman South side Molesey.

HARLOW TN: Freund, Pope (Glasgow 80), Eadie, West, Sonko, Simms, Dadson, Melaugh, Read, Antoine (Small 62), Stamp (Benjamin 69), Att: 210.

Swimmers on the pathway to success

TWO of Harlow Penguins' young swimmers, 11-year-olds Carys Brealey and Alessandro Rioda, have been selected to attend an Amateur Swimming Association (ASA) East Region Talent Camp.

These events form part of the overall approach to the development of the swimmer pathway in England. Last weekend they attended the first of two sessions being held at Culford School in Suffolk, which are aimed at developing skills and knowledge and will be critical to the swimmers' development as part of the UK's performance swimming programme.

Carys and Alessandro are two of Penguins stars of the future and both are currently at the top of the UK rankings for their events.

Penguins head coach Martin Stringer said: "Achieving this success, both swimmers have the talent but ahead of them are lots of hours in the pool training."

"Both of the swimmers are part of Penguins Performance Pathway, which in conjunction with our academy are developing an exciting future for the club and as a result this year will send more swimmers to county championships than ever before."

'WE HAVE TOP CHAP'

Hawks chairman so impressed with boss

HAWKS chairman John Barnett has paid tribute to the job manager Danny Chapman has carried out at the Ryman North club.

Harlow Town have come desperately close to promotion three times under Chapman, and Barnett says these experiences have made the boss a much tougher character.

"We have great respect for him and the way he persuades players to give 100 per cent every week is great," beamed Chapman.

"On top of that he does not take any nonsense from anybody. He's a lot harder than he was."

Last summer Chapman took on a full-time dual role as director of football, spearheading the club's academy.

"He has taken a coaching course and we now employ him full time here, which makes a hell of a difference," explained Barnett.

Great experience

"He's looking after the academy, he's looking after the young players. He's seeing them through and it's all great experience for him and you can see it with the way he is.

"I have known him many years. I was a director at Barnet Football Club when he came to us from Tottenham. Fortunately for Barnett and unfortunately for Danny, when he left Tottenham they had about four centre-halves and they all left that season.

"He was playing at Barnet and he would have been in the Spurs team at that time.

"He has gone on, his coaching is good and he's a great coaching and management man. He's great with the players. Being a player for so many years, he knows what it's all about. He knows what he wants, he's very strict on certain things, which is good.

"He respects the football club. I think he has great respect for Tom [Cunningham] and I.

"He's a very amiable guy. He will have a drink with you and the players, but he knows what he wants and he gets it. If he doesn't get it he looks for other players."

Barnett knows Saturday's home clash against Ryman North leaders Cray Wanderers is of huge importance, and is convinced the team can finally go up to the Ryman Premier this season.

He said: "I thought we deserved to go up last season. We played terrific, when you think we only lost five games all season and the team that beat us in the play-off semi-final finished 19 points behind us.

"It was down to a play-off which can go any way. I was very upset, not with the way we played [against Thurrock], although we weren't that great.

"When it gets to that stage I don't agree with play-offs anyway, it's done for the financial side of the league.

"This year I was determined that we do our best to go up and if I have to bring other players in we will do that. I think we deserve a place in the Premier Division.

"From there then who knows where we can go."

Chapman meanwhile is not convinced Cray is a 'must-win' match', believing there are far more twists and turns.

He said: "I still think there is way too much football to be played. But we will be looking to win the game."

Midfielder Lewis Perkins could be out for some time with suspected knee ligament damage.

Chapman is speaking to two holding midfielders, who currently play at a higher level.

"They both play in the league above. I am talking to them and we will see if we can do a deal.

"They will add really good experience and know-how of how to win leagues. The question is are they title-winning or promotion-winning players?"

A FIRST-half Alex Read hat-trick put paid to Ryman Premier Merstham as Harlow Town secured a second qualifying round tie at Molesey with a comfortable replay win on Tuesday.

It was the perfect tonic for Saturday's crunch Ryman North home match against leaders Cray Wanderers, as Harlow showed they can easily bridge the one division gap to the Premier Division.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "It was a great performance to beat a Premier side by that margin. I don't think you could say they played bad, I think we were so good.

"We were ruthless. Every chance we put away. Alex Read was superb right throughout the game."

The hosts were awarded a rather suspect penalty when Dexter Peter upended Read on the edge of the penalty box.

Read, who missed a penalty in the FA Cup replay at Bath City, made no mistake this time, slotting it into the bottom right corner to give the hosts a seventh-minute lead.

Fantastic

One became two on nine minutes.

The excellent Read's run into the penalty box and to the byline ended with a fantastic ball across the six-yard box, which gave Leon Antoine an easy tap-in.

It was 3-0 on 20 minutes after the Merstham keeper Yannick Makiese made a complete hash of a clearance from a right-wing cross. Shane Stamp headed it across goal and Read poked in his second goal of the night with the visitors' defence doing their best audition for Billy Smart's Circus - clowns not acrobats.

Eight minutes before the break it turned into a rout. Ryan Melaugh's fantastic run into the box saw him cut the ball back and Read's first-time curling shot rifled into the roof of the net for his hat-trick.

A fifth came on 41 minutes and this was a fantastic individual goal from Stamp. He picked up the ball not too far from the halfway line and stormed forward 20 yards into the penalty
